Web & Email Hosting

Hosting your company web site is a technical service that requires experience and knowledge to ensure that the site remains available at all times on the internet.

By hosting with UK Business IT, you are free to choose whichever web design company you want to – we simply give them access to your site as required. Your site does not have to be hosted by your web company.

Relocating your web site to UK Business IT is a straigt forward process. The most effective method is to advise your current host company and we'll do the rest. Please note that some sites which have been built using proprietary web development tools (such as Wix, Yell etc) cannot be moved.

If you don't currently have a web site, we can register your company name with any extension (.co.uk, .com, .net, .uk etc) and put you in touch with a web design company. If you are a new business then registering a suitable domain name as soon as possible is important to ensure that you become the owner (ie before someone else registers it).

Where required, we also offer e-Mail hosting and this is included with our standard web hosting package.

We also offer Security Certificates (SSL) with the majority of our web hosting packages. Most modern web sites require a security certificate.
